

*A Short History of MOAPPP
1989-2003*

1989: Idea for MOAPPP conceived at the NOAPP Conference, November 1989 by Nancy Nelson, Junior League of Minneapolis and Sherri Wright, Minnesota 4-H Youth Development.

1990: Grant proposal written with Interagency Team on Adolescent Pregnancy to fund a five year Teen Pregnancy Prevention Project of MN: including six community-based teen pregnancy prevention pilot projects, MOAPPP, the Clearinghouse and technical assistance. Housed in Office of Strategic and Long Range Planning (MN Planning).

1991: TPPP/MN received three-year funding from Bush, Dayton Hudson and Northwest Area Foundations; in-kind space and supervision from MN Planning; in-kind direction of project from Teen Pregnancy Prevention Steering Committee (including representatives of MN Departments of Human Services, Education, Health, Economic Security, Planning and community organizations). First MOAPPP organizing meeting held on June 18, 1991. MOAPPP Prevention Specialist, Donna Fishman, hired in November 1991.

1992: MOAPPP Board formed; Nancy Nelson elected first board president. MOAPPP incorporated; mission, goals, by-laws developed; first conference held; four newsletters produced. Long range planning process begins.

1993: 501(c)(3) status applied for and received; second annual statewide conference held; public policy position statements developed; three focus groups and one regional training held; four newsletters produced. Donna Fishman becomes Director of the Teen Pregnancy Prevention Project of MN; Nancy Nelson becomes the MOAPPP Prevention Specialist.

1994: Grantwriting with TPPP/MN to receive continuation of funding for entire project; third annual conference; Barbara Huberman, Director of North Carolina Teen Pregnancy Prevention Project, provides training to members, legislators and funders; two Public Policy Speakers; Bureau trainings held; presentations at the legislature and in the media; three newsletters produced. Strategic planning consultant assists Board in developing a five year strategic plan. Two Fact Sheets are produced. MOAPPP assists in development of the MN ENABL project.

1995: Fundraising, grantwriting and marketing consultants help MOAPPP to plan for independence. Fourth annual conference held. Plans to adopt the clearinghouse after independence is confirmed. Personnel policies are developed. Plans to move out of MN Planning and separate from the Teen Pregnancy Prevention Project are made; funding secured. Three newsletters are produced. Co-sponsored a SIECUS sexuality education training with Sexuality and Family Life Educators. Produced the Community Empowerment Manual and conducted trainings with Planned Parenthood and MN Extension in Duluth and St. Cloud. Received NOAPPP 1995 Outstanding State Coalition of the Year Award. Presented at the NOAPPP Annual Conference.

1996: January 1--became independent from the Teen Pregnancy Prevention Project of MN. Moved to Face to Face Health and Counseling Service in St. Paul. Trained MN ENABL grant recipients in the spring and the fall. Held fifth annual conference and first fundraising events with guest of honor Jane Fonda. Produced four newsletters. Provided information and resources through the MOAPPP InfoExchange.

1997: MOAPPP's 6th annual conference (450 participants), the Teen Pregnancy Puzzle, MOAPPP's website, two Community Empowerment trainings, the Adolescent Parent Grant program ($1.3 million from the Legislature), the InfoExchange (58 requests/month), bi-monthly MOAPPP Monitor, monthly Adolescent Parent Network and bi-monthly Young Father's Network, coalitions and collaborative efforts. Co-Sponsored "Let's Talk Month" seminar with St. Paul - Ramsey County Public Health. Moved to new offices in the Family Tree Building in St. Paul in November. Conducted Parents as Sex Educators training with the MN PTA.

1998: Provided MN ENABL and Abstinence Education training and technical assistance for 32 communities; held 7th annual conference for two days with 380 participants. Filled 60 InfoExchange requests/ month. Coordinated monthly Adolescent Parent Network meetings. Compiled 1996 State and County-Specific Adolescent Health Statistics. Updated program database. Co-Sponsored Teen Pregnancy Prevention Month and Let's Talk Month activities. Coordinated Minnesota Sexuality Education Resource Review Panel.

1999: MOAPPP's InfoExchange continues to provide local, state and national practitioners with research, statistics and program information through direct telephone and in-person consultation and MOAPPP's website. MOAPPP facilitates focus groups and statewide planning committee to examine impact of Minnesota Family Investment Program on adolescent parents. Advocacy efforts at the Legislature bring teen voices to the Capitol on school-based teen parent programs, male responsibility and fathering grants, and sexuality education. MOAPPP's Teen Pregnancy Puzzle is revised, with supplementary training materials developed to encourage teen advocacy. Training and technical assistance are provided to MN ENABL and Abstinence Education grantees. MOAPPP's 8th annual conference is held, with Dr. Henry Foster, Dr. Robert Blum and Jodie Levin-Epstein as keynote speakers. Cultural Complementarity Dialogues are planned. The MOAPPP Strategic Plan is revised to provide guidance from July 1999 through June 2002.

2000: MOAPPP focused on building partnerships with local, state and national partners to strengthen policies and programs on adolescent pregnancy, prevention and parenting. We trained grantees from 42 communities for the MN ENABL and Abstinence Education grants; developed the Get Started! Community organizing manual; coordinated Let's Talk Month and Teen Pregnancy Prevention Month activities throughout the state. MOAPPP's 9th annual conference was held in May, with more than 40 workshops and 400 participants. The Teen Advisory Panel produced a Teen Pregnancy Prevention Month poster. MOAPPP's Sexuality Education Survey of more than 600 Minnesota adults provided critical information about attitudes indicating 9 in 10 support comprehensive sexuality education. MOAPPP coordinated Sex Ed for Life-MN, a coalition of to support comprehensive sexuality education. MOAPPP received media in every major outlet in the state. Advocates for Youth provided technical assistance to MOAPPP as one of six statewide coalitions. Dialogues with communities of color were held to identify attitudes, knowledge and effective strategies to address high rates of teen pregnancy.

2001: MOAPPP worked with community partners and the MN Department of Health to advocate for the Governor's Teen Pregnancy Prevention Initiative: ultimately the Legislature approved $9 million for teen pregnancy prevention efforts through Health Disparities, Home Visiting, Youth Risk Behaviors and MN ENABL. MOAPPP also worked to secure more funding for the Adolescent Parent Grants, which did not receive more money, but did not lose funding. MOAPPP launched the Latino Outreach Project and convened the first statewide forum on Latino teen pregnancy. MOAPPP's 10th Anniversary was celebrated with 450 people at an event featuring Jane Fonda and at our 10th Annual Conference. We were honored by the Pan African Community Endowment Fund for our work with African American communities. MOAPPP hosted Sarah Brown, executive director of the National Campaign to Prevent Teen Pregnancy, at a Minnesota Meeting. In partnership with Ramsey and Hennepin Counties, MOAPPP co-sponsored Let's Talk Month activities and resources. The Minnesota Sexuality Education Resource Review Panel was coordinated by MOAPPP for the 4th year. Sex Ed for Life Coalition provided training and advocacy on Comprehensive Sexuality Education and minor's consent for reproductive health care.

2002: MOAPPP collaborated with the Penumbra Theatre to produce a performance piece for teen audiences and it premiered at MOAPPP's 11th Annual Conference in April. We collaborated with three Latino community organizations to initiate Aqui Para Ti, a comprehensive youth development program in Minneapolis, funded through the Eliminating Health Disparities Initiative of the MN Department of Health. MOAPPP's Let's Talk Month and Teen Pregnancy Prevention Month activities featured resources for parents, teens and communities in both performance, workshops, written materials and website resources. The Sex Ed for Life-MN Coalition, co-convened by MOAPPP and the Minnesota AIDS Project, successfully advocated for comprehensive sexuality education and minor's consent for reproductive health. The Coalition grew to include more than 40 organizations, and provided advocacy training and educational opportunities for providers, peer educators and parents. MOAPPP facilitated development of a Memo of Agreement between Hennepin County, the Minneapolis Public Schools, the Minneapolis City Mayor, and community organizations to ensure teen parents have access to necessary services to stay in school and develop positive parenting skills. "Women Who Cook" performed for MOAPPP's May fundraiser, with Women Who Really Cook providing a variety of foods at the Quest Night Club. MOAPPP applied for and received from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention one of five grants provided to state organizations to disseminate science-based strategies to prevent teen pregnancy. For this grant, MOAPPP is contracting with the National Teen Pregnancy Prevention Research Center to assist with evaluation and training around the Minnesota State Plan to Prevent Teen Pregnancy (A Work in Progress). MOAPPP held our second annual Vive Tu Juventud, Latino Forum in Minneapolis, featuring Debra Delgado, from the Annie E. Casey Foundation. MOAPPP received a significant grant from the St. Paul-Ramsey County Department of Public Health to coordinate the St. Paul Ramsey Co Teen Pregnancy Project.

2003: A new state administration and Legislature and dismal economy created challenges to many of the programs and policies that MOAPPP supports. The Sex Ed for Life-MN Coalition successfully held off attacks on comprehensive sex ed and minor's consent for reproductive health care. The CDC grant gave MOAPPP the opportunity to assess the training needs of providers throughout Minnesota, as well as provide training on effective sexuality education, parent communication, and youth development/ sexuality education strategies. MOAPPP worked with Nobles-Rock Public Health to convene two meetings in Worthington for parents and providers who work with Latino youth. The St. Paul Ramsey County Teen Pregnancy Project Teen Advocates developed leadership and communication skills through creating a public service announcement and advocating at the Legislature. Additional funding from SPRC Public Health made it possible to coordinate four outstanding Teen Pregnancy Awareness Month events for African American, Native American, Asian and Latino providers, focused on the link between sexual violence and teen pregnancy. "Let's Talk About It," an original play produced by Central High Touring Theater was funded through the Sexual Violence Action Team and presented at both Let's Talk Month, Teen Pregnancy Awareness Month and the 12th Annual Conference. MOAPPP's 12th Conference featured Wayne Pawlowski and Barbara Sugland and more than 35 workshops for more than 400 providers from throughout Minnesota.
